Information about the number of challans filed in the courts, State-wise, and the number of cases disposed of, year-wise and State-wise, is not readily available.

"Public Order' and "Police' are State subjects as per the Constitution of India and, as such, registration, investigation, detection and prevention of crime is primarily the responsibility of the State Governments. However, the Central Government has been advising the State Governments, from time to time, to give more focussed attention to the improvement of administration of Criminal Justice System and take such measures as are necessary for prevention of crime against the Scheduled Castes, Scheduled Tribes and other vulnerable sections of the society.
